President Scott Olson

... claimed that he was, "tired of catching fish"

PRESIDENT'S FLYBOX

SCOTT OLSON

OFF THE BEATEN PATH

A great number of prime fishing spots are completely overlooked by many fly fishermen. These "secret spots" as they are referred to so often are little gems that usually offer great fishing, solitude and unmatched scenery along with very little fishing pressure.

A case in point is our own San Joaquin River as it is accessed out of Agnew Meadows where you will find almost no competition for the eager brookies, rainbows and goldenbow hybrids. The SJ narrows in this section as it tumbles down from its headwaters making the runs a little faster and the pockets slightly smaller on average, but the fish are there and lots of them. As a matter of fact one of my fishing companions after only four hours on the water claimed that he was, "tired of catching fish." Something I highly doubted.

Tallying up over a hundred fish per angler in four hours on a dry / dropper rig is not a bad "days" work and makes the one hour uphill trek out a lot easier to contemplate, especially when there is a cold beer at the end of the proverbial rainbow.

So get out there and put a few miles on the wading boots. I don't think you will regret the effort.

Scott Olson, Conejo Valley Fly Fishers, President

Southwest Council FLY FISHING FAIRE

October 20-21, 2018
Glendale Civic Auditorium

This should be a great event as we've already sold about 90% of the vendor booths, Steven Fernandez and Dave Boyer are lining up dozens of great fly tiers to occupy the 30 demonstration tables, guides from all over California and other locales will be doing presentations, and we'll have some form of shuttle to take folks over to the Pasadena Casting Club pond for casting workshops.

We'll have something for everyone from the beginner to the advanced fly fisher. Also as this is our major fundraiser for the year there will be lots of raffles and silent auctions to get lots of goodies.

ENDANGERED FISH SHARE WATER TO HELP TROUT

When anglers on the popular Lower Provo River in Utah noticed an ever-decreasing water level below a diversion they started wondering what would happen to the trout.

Brian Wimmer leads the Alpine Anglers Trout Unlimited Chapter and works as a guide on the Provo River. When he and other concerned anglers noticed fish being trapped in shallow pools on the Provo River near the end of the canyon they started looking into the issue.

Project Healing Waters Fly Fishing, Inc at the Boise, Idaho Fly Fishing Faire 2018

Seven individuals from the Long Beach program spent a week in Boise, Idaho at the Fly Fishers International Fair, August 5-12. Five participants and one volunteer fished the Owyhee River on Monday and Tuesday. It was challenging but they caught some very large fish. Wednesday, they attended two workshops. The first was an interesting classroom session entitled "Where Are They and What Are They Doing?" This was followed by an on-the water "Czech Nymphing" clinic in the afternoon.

“Our niece by marriage, Wing Shan McBurnie, made this spectacular cake for another relative’s 60th birthday party last weekend in Wasaga Beach, Ontario, Canada. It is difficult to believe it is a real cake. It is even more difficult to believe they served it at the party. I would have mounted it over my fireplace. “

South Coast Region CAEP: Classroom Aquarium Education Program

Serving Los Angeles, Orange,
San Diego, Santa Barbara, and Ventura counties

HOW TO GET INVOLVED

Teachers: The first step in getting started is to attend a free workshop. The workshop is required for participation in the program. Many teachers obtain grant money or funding through other sources for the equipment needed.

Volunteers: Help is needed in a variety of ways including delivering eggs to schools, classroom presentations, and assisting with field trips. Angling Clubs and other organizations may donate their time and/or resources.

For more information about how to get started in the program, please contact South
