CHANNEL ISLAND FLYFISHING WITH MICHAEL SCHWEIT

CLUB MEETING SCHEDULE | 6:00 – 8:30pm

Michael Schweit has been a licensed contractor for over 30 years. Skills from that business translate into organizational skills and juggling many balls in the air. He started flyfishing in 1982 and served as Outings Chair for Sierra Pacific Fly Fishers from 1999-2006. As Southwest Council President from 2009-2019 he worked with the BOD to create the Fly Fishing Faire, Riptide Rendezvous, Club Management Day and Fly Buy.

He fishes the salt primarily (with a world record white seabass on the fly) but is not averse to fishing anywhere species with gills and/or scales are found. Currently as Special Projects Director he organizes events such as tournaments, outreach and assists in Council fundraising functions.

Michael Schweit is a chartermaster out of Channel Islands Sportfishing. That means he hosts trips throughout the seasons and while these trips are mostly for conventional gear anglers, Michael will show you opportunities to use a fly rod on any boat. His current world record of a white seabass, Taken on 8 pound tippet, was on just such a trip and he will show you techniques that can be used on fly rod only trips too.

If you would like to be “on the list” for the many charters that Michael books throughout the year, please contact him at:

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

GARY SCOTT

Welcome to all. Hope this message finds you and your families healthy and well and prosperous...

You have spoken in a great way confirming for our club that you want to proceed for the future!

Forty-two of our club members and their wives showed up to party at our annual fundraiser outside, the home of Rich and Judy Bollinger's'...And what a party it was! We even had some new members join as a result. The food, fun, and funds flowed freely as we all raised $4700, in order to promote the operations of our clubs for the future...We had the support of a fantastic team to organize, promote, set up, cook, and clean up for all. My thanks go out to all who participated...Everyone who I saw seemed happy enjoying each other's company...So now the million dollar question is, what do we do with all the money we earned for our club? I know what I would do and that is to stay true to our mission statement:

We are a group of men and women dedicated to promoting the sport and art of flyfishing through education, practice, fly tying, casting, and outings...We have an emphasis to teach young people the resources of wild trout and stream preservation through a long-standing program called Trout in the Classroom. We advocate membership with the Federation of Flyfishers, Trout Unlimited, and Cal Trout, who advance the sport and conservation of waters across our Nation. Through membership we want to help make your flyfishing experience excel into memories worth passing on to future generations.

While this seems easy to do, and quite frankly it is not. Our Board Team is working to create and promote ways to enhance your flyfishing experiences for this next year...But we need your input. So I invite you to contact me and let me know what you would like to see or who you would like to hear, or places you might like to learn about...

For starters we will be having casting clinics for those of you wanting to learn more. These will be taught by Certified instructors from the Federation of Fly fishers as well as some of our own seasoned veterans. Since we are now somewhat freed from the Covid threats we are planning more events to allow you to practice those casting techniques you will learn...Please stay posted and read about our progress in our newsletter.

I had the pleasure this last weekend to flyfish with seven people of notable interest on the chartered boat named the "Island Tak" just off the coast of Anacapa Island...It was considered by all present to be an epic event as we caught and released over 300 fish...I have never had such a satisfied experience surrounded by such ocean conditions as we experienced...And I didn't even get sea sick... One of the seven people present that day was Michael Schweit, head charter-master of our trip. He will also be our next speaker for our meeting on November 10th. So, I invite you to come to see and hear how we conquered the ocean for a day...

Gary Scott, CVFF President

MONTHLY MISSIVE

SCOTT OLSON

Former President

CHALLENGING & CHANGING TIMES

Reality presents itself in many guises. Some subtle, some like a swift kick in the pants, and many times unexpected and frankly uncomfortable. The age old curse, "may you live in interesting times", certainly seems to have come down on us fishermen in spades.

Having suffered several years of drought the presence of another strong La Nina looks to extend this arid trend for another year. If this turns out to be the case it bodes ill for those of us who enjoy passing our free time plying the myriad waters of the Sierra.

So what's an angler to do? Well if he's smart and has the means he looks to other places...and that is exactly what I plan to do. There are so many great places to fish here in the good old USA (and Canada) with relatively easy access and for the most part scantier crowds than California. Having just returned from Minnesota I can attest to the almost unlimited fishing available on any given day.

There are many trophy tail waters all across the nation that provide year round, reliable flows that can be tapped, and add to that the large number of fishable lakes and estuaries and the angling prospects boggles the mind. It's a literal smorgasbord of fishing opportunities just waiting to be taken advantage of next year.

Although I'm hoping for a good wet winter and a heavy snowpack I think a little prudent planning for some out of state angling probably isn't a bad idea. Who knows, we just might discover another gem like the Owyhee. Hope does spring eternal.

TIGHT LINES AND FIGHTING FISHING TO ALL.

CHANGE, CHALLENGE, COMMITMENT

"The only constant in life is change." - Heraclitus

During the last quarter, the Southwest Council has continued to adapt and change or, as my friend says, "pivot" to the ongoing challenges of the pandemic. We decided to temporarily put a few events on hold due to the surge of the Covid variant, but that hasn't stopped us from planning for the future.

THE FUTURE LOOKS BRIGHT

We are busy planning several fun events for 2022 and still have a few left in 2021. To celebrate the holidays, we have a holiday-themed fly tying contest. Get ready to bring your creativity to the visé. We can't wait to see all your creative creations. The second week of December, there will be a Zoom holiday party for Women's Programs. On January 22, 2022, the famous and fun FlyBuy will return to the Long Beach Casting Club. On February 19, 2022, we will be hosting our first ever Trout Rodeo in Bishop, California! We also continue the job of general housekeeping, which includes BOD meetings, forming policy, planning events, interfacing with FFI, publishing newsletters, and everything in between that we do to keep things running behind the scenes.

SWC AWARD RECIPIENTS

Every year, Fly Fishers International presents awards to acknowledge those individuals and organizations who demonstrate the highest levels of achievement, dedication, and contribution to preserving the legacy of fly fishing for all fish in all waters. Congratulations to the following Southwest Council award recipients:

- FFI McKenzie Cup - Sierra Pacific Flyfishers. The McKenzie Cup is an award given annually to the FFI Club that has made an outstanding contribution to the FFI.
- FFI Dick Nelson Fly Tying Teaching Award - Michael Peratis. This award is presented to an individual who excels in teaching the art of fly tying to tiers at all skill levels.
- Southwest Council Award of Excellence - Connie Bullock and Eric Callow

FFI VIRTUAL EXPO

What are you doing on November 5, 6, and 7? Think about attending the FFI Virtual Expo. You won't want to miss this opportunity to learn from experts from all over the world. For only $25, you will get access to over 100 free fly fishing workshops, presentations, and demonstrations. Please note that some of the workshops have a small charge and require advance registration. To register or learn more about the FFI Virtual Expo, click on this link Free Sessions with Registration

HAPPY ANNIVERSARY

In 2022, the SWC will be celebrating its 40th anniversary. Since 1982, The Southwest Council FFI has been an organized voice for fly fishers throughout Southern California and Western Nevada. Our mission is to ensure the legacy of fly fishing for all fish in all waters through conservation, community outreach, and education. Thank you to those who have carried the torch over the years and those that continue to be committed to our mission.

GIVING THANKS

Thank you to all of you for your support of the Southwest Council. This year has been full of many twists and turns but has also been a reminder of how important community is to all of us. Thanksgiving is a time for giving thanks, and I am thankful that I have had the opportunity to know so many fantastic clubs and fly fishers. I look forward to spending time sharing, learning, discussing, and connecting with all the clubs as we tackle the future together.

I wish all of you a very happy Thanksgiving! May it be filled with good food, good health, good times, endless stuffing, and pumpkin pie. And, of course, turkey!

Fishers rejoice. California will now offer year-round 365-day fishing licenses

BY ANDREW SHEELER

UPDATED OCTOBER 08, 2021 1:20 PM

California will now issue 365-day fishing licenses, under a new law signed by Gov. Gavin Newsom. Previously, the state issued a calendar-based license that expired on Dec. 31, regardless of when it was issued.

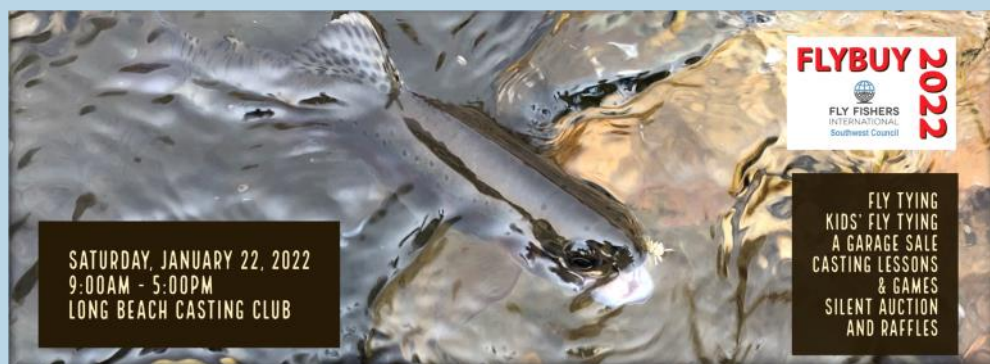

Assembly Bill 817, authored by Assemblyman Jim Wood, D-Santa Rosa, also authorizes the California Department of Fish and Wildlife to allow for sport fishing licenses to be displayed electronically on a mobile device

The new law seeks to reverse a trend that has found California annual resident sport fishing license sales down 55% since 1980, despite the state's population growth by 60% in that same period, according to Wood's office.

CAPITOL CORNER: BUDGET FUNDING FOR FISH, WATER, & PEOPLE

The California Legislature released the final budget language late on the Sunday of Labor Day weekend. CalTrout remains critical of the unnecessary delay in releasing critical budget items like emergency drought funding, wildfire relief, and climate resilience packages. As water curtailment orders go live throughout the state, the legislature is still waiting to officially approve these critical funding packages to combat the effects of climate during this year's especially dry drought conditions.

Despite these real and unavoidable consequences of a slow legislative process, CalTrout remains optimistic as state government is poised to inject over $8.8 billion in drought preparedness, climate resilience, and fire preparedness funding. This large injection of natural resource funding was made possible by the fact that California oversaw a $50 billion surplus and successful advocacy from strong promoters, including the individuals on CalTrout's own policy team, in directing a large portion of these funds towards protecting our natural water resources. | READ MORE

30 YEARS LATER: UPPER SAC RIVER AND CANTARA LOOP SPILL

The Upper Sacramento River was again at risk of devastation after a Union Pacific train derailed recently at Cantara Loop, reminding many of the disastrous spill over 30 years ago in the same location. Luckily this time, no spills of any kind occurred, but this further strengthens the argument that this pristine stretch of river requires protection.

DISASTROUS SPILL

In July 1991, a 97-car Southern Pacific train derailed at the Cantara Loop near Mt. Shasta and dumped 19,000 gallons of herbicide metam sodium into the Sacramento River. Within two days, the spill had reached Shasta Lake, leaving in its wake hundreds of thousands of dead fish and 45 miles of river so scoured of life that not even algae remained.

Later that summer, it appeared that the California Department of Fish and Game would comply with demands from the town of Dunsmuir to open the river to anglers and plant massive amounts of hatchery fish into the river. Southern Pacific also supported this short-sighted proposal.

CALTROUT'S ACTION PLAN

In response, CalTrout vigorously opposed stocking since the planted trout would crowd out the trophy-quality fish that naturally spawn in the upper Sacramento River.

We also advocated for an interim fishing closure on the tributaries that were untouched by the poison and filled with juvenile wild rainbow trout. Working with Southern Pacific, CalTrout proposed a nine-point recovery plan to restore the fishery within three years. Though the plan was met with some local opposition, it proved to be successful. Thanks to these efforts, the Upper Sacramento is now a thriving state-designated Wild Trout fishery and blue-ribbon trout stream.

TAILWATERS, KEEPING IT SIMPLE | OCTOBER 2021

<https://www.aboutrout.com/post/tailwaters-keeping-it-simple>

Tailwaters, you love them, you hate them, you love to hate them or you hate to love them. They evoke more emotion than a mid 2000's emo band trilling about teen angst and heartbreak. While they can get a bad rap for being crowded and technical, they're always there for you. Tailwaters present an interesting niche in the fly fishing world and this post is here to help demisty them for you. As a full time San Juan River guide, I hope to share with you the thought process behind how and why I rig the way that I do. The San Juan is a tailwater so I guess you could say this is my life. If you hate tailwaters, then you're really going to hate this so now is the time to check out my piece on creeks here.

Tailwater a definition and clarification.

If you're newer to fly fishing a tailwater is simply water directly below a hydraulic structure, a la a dam. With this in mind there is a difference between a water below a dam and what most fly anglers would define a "tail water". Just because a river is below a dam doesn't mean it will fish like your angler definition of a tail water. When fly anglers talk about tail waters they are usually referring to fisheries with a large biomass of trout with high populations of midges. Tailwaters are almost synonymous with midge fishing as well as various mayflies species like baetis, pmids, and other food staples like scuds.

HOW TO GET INVOLVED

Teachers: The first step in getting started is to attend a free workshop. The workshop is required for participation in the program. Many teachers obtain grant money or funding through other sources for the equipment needed.

Volunteers: Help is needed in a variety of ways including delivering eggs to schools, classroom presentations, and assisting with field trips. Angling Clubs and other organizations may donate their time and/or resources.

For more information about how to get started in the program, please contact South Coast Region CAEP Coordinators: Jennifer O'Brien and Dwayne Maxwell
